Clarivate

The new EndNote 2025

Discover new, intelligent ways to power research and boost productivity.

Enhanced with AI tools to help your team save time and stay organized

The new AI-powered EndNote Research Assistant enhances the research discovery and writing process, helping researchers save time. EndNote AI features make it easy to pinpoint key information from documents, translate papers on the spot and locate best-fit journals for manuscripts.
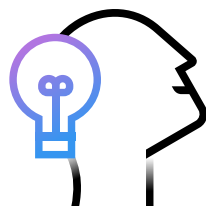

EndNote Research Assistant: Chat with a document

Transform PDFs into an interactive experience. Ask questions in plain language, and AI delivers instant answers sourced directly from the paper for greater accuracy.

EndNote Research Assistant: Translate a document

Break through language barriers with built-in translation. Instantly convert content from other languages and access global knowledge faster than ever.

EndNote Research Assistant: Key Takeaway

Expedite research discovery by extracting key insights and takeaways from individual papers, summarizing the main points of a paper in seconds.

Find A Journal

Make informed publishing decisions using an enhanced machine learning tool that finds best-fit journals using key elements of your manuscript.

Advanced tools and features for effective reference management

Take advantage of all the features that make EndNote the essential reference management tool for your organization. Eliminate thousands of hours gathering references and formatting citations and simplify your process so you can keep research projects of any size and scope on track.
